

John Lober - Class of 1975

After college, John Lober worked as a laborer for a builder, later becoming a superintendent for the building company. He spent several years learning the building business then made the decision to start his own building company. Lober is the President of Provence Homes, Inc. He was honored with being named one of the Top 3 Builders in Kansas City according to Ingram's Magazine three years in a row. The Home Builders Association of Kansas City has honored Lober 10 years in a row with a Grand Award for excellence in the homebuilding industry. Provence Homes, Inc. has built homes in many Northland communities including The National, Staley Farms, Riss Lake, Waterford Place, Briarcliff West, Hunter's Ridge, Copper Leaf and many others.

Lober and his wife, Lori, founded and actively support and assist cancer victims and survivors. The Lobers also actively support a Kansas City organization that assists homeless and abandoned pets.
